

FIRST NATIONAL BANK BUILDING, DUNBAR, DAMAGED

Fire During Forenoon Is Confined to Apartments in Upper Portion.

LOSSES NOT VERY HEAVY

More Is Caused By Water Than By Flames; First Reports Said Building Had Been Destroyed; Local Firemen Aid; Brush Fires Break Out.

Summoned to Dunbar about 8:10 o'clock this morning the Connellsville fire department assisted in extinguishing a hidden blaze in the First National bank building, in the heart of the business section of that town. The fire burned almost an hour but greater damage resulted from water than from the flames.

The fire was first noticed about 7:30 o'clock by Edward Cope who was driving into the town. He saw the smoke issuing from the roof of the building and called out the volunteer fire department. The firemen were blinded by the heavy volume of smoke which hindered their efforts. The blaze appeared to be dangerous and a call was sent to this city for assistance.

Responding immediately the local firemen reached Dunbar in time to aid in putting out the flames. The fire had not spread but was confined to the portion of the structure between the roof and flooring of the attic. While it has not been definitely determined what caused the fire it is thought a defective flue leading from the furnace ignited the woodwork.

The building was damaged to quite a large extent by water. Tenants on both third and second floors suffered and the storerooms in the ground floor were drenched. The banking room of the First National bank suffered some from water.

Probably the heaviest loss from water was in the Dunbar Drug company's store. It had just recently been completely renovated inside and Manager J. V. Connell had intended installing a new fountain today. As a result of this fire it is not likely this can be done until after Easter. Manager Connell estimated the company's loss to be $200.

The Woods probably had the heaviest damage of the tenants. His rooms were drenched. He is a third floor tenant. Lawrence Curran of the Connellsville Macaroni company, also a third floor tenant, had some loss. The other tenants on the floor are foreign families. On the second floor are the families of Ray Holings, Harry Lowden, George Frost and John Lowry. All suffered some loss from water.

Repairs to the roof will be necessary. It was punctured in some places to allow hose to be used.

When the water started to come through the ceiling into the warehouse of McGee's store the flour stored there was removed and saved.

Reports in Connellsville this morning were that the entire First National bank building had burned down and that the business section of the town was threatened. It was also rumored that the Uniontown fire department was there together with the local firemen.

As the Connellsville truck was preparing to return word was received of an alarm in this city and a hurried run was made. The blaze here however was only a grass fire on Tenth street, West Side. Truck No. 2 responded to that call and together with a number of volunteers the firemen put out the blaze.

Another grass fire was extinguished yesterday afternoon in the rear of the home of Etlio Nannini in Second street, West Side. The firemen warn citizens of the city not to light fires on their premises at this time, especially on account of the high winds and the dryness of the grass.

The South Connellsville fire department was called out last night for a big brush fire beyond the borough limits. The volunteers responded but did not succeed in extinguishing the blaze. The blowing of the "wildcat" whistle of that borough attracted much attention.

RAIN WOULD BE WELCOME

Earth Unusually Dry for so Early in the Spring Season.

It seems early in the season a talk of dry weather but the subject is timely. Farmers and gardeners say while in the woods leaves are as dry as tinder and heavy damage has been caused by forest fires.

The strong winds and high temperature of the past week has had the effect of sapping moisture from the earth to an unusual degree for March.

Teachers Given Increase.

To stop the movement of the better teachers to Pittsburgh and to attract applications from a superior class of instructors, the borough of Rankin has established a 10-month term of school and increased all salaries 25 per cent.

Kicked by Mule.

C. V. Cupp of Leisenring No. 2 was struck in the right side yesterday by a mule. Mr. Cupp's breast bone and several ribs were fractured. He was taken to the Uniontown hospital but later returned to his home.

OBJECTIONABLE PUBLIC DANCES AT THE ARMORY CAN BE CUT OUT BY PROVIDING FUND FOR CO. D

"I will subscribe to the Company D Fund," said a Southside resident to a member of the canvassing committee, "if the armory is closed and kept closed to dances of a certain character. But if these are to be continued, as in the past, I will not give a penny."

"You are one of the people I have been looking for," replied the canvasser, "in order that I can have an opportunity of explaining this phase of the fund proposition. To enable Company D to cut out every kind and form of money-raising proposition to which there can be or has been objection on part of the citizens of the South Side of elsewhere, is one of the chief objects of the effort now being made. With an ample fund with which to provide for the company there will be no need for any form of entertainment in the armory that will not be strictly proper."

"I have the assurance of members of the armory board, which body has the custody and control of the building and decides by whom it shall be used, that there will be a complete house-cleaning in respect to objectionable public dances, so that when Company D is reorganized and the armory again used for military purposes and equipped as a club for the members of the company, absolutely nothing will be permitted in or about the building that can be considered offensive in any sense."

"That is just what the people behind the reorganization of Company D expect to have brought about. We want to make the armory so much of a home, or the kind of a home, for the members of Company D that parents of the boys will know that it is a desirable place for them to spend their leisure hours or to engage in clean sports and health-giving recreations. Such a place as I would want my boy, or you would want your boy, to go for companionship of the right sort."

"The young men are themselves re-organizing Company D. They are selecting from among their acquaintances and friends the kind of fellows they would like to have with them on 'bikes,' in camp or meet in tests of strength or skill in athletic games and contests at the armory."

"It is up to us—you and I and other citizens—to make it possible for the boys of Company D to secure that kind of recruit. To help them make membership in the company so attractive, and the surroundings at the armory so pleasant and wholesome, that young men of the right type will want to get in, and also enable them to keep the other kind out."

"I had not looked at the matter in that light," thoughtfully answered the Southsider. "It is a much better proposition than I thought it was. How much do you want me to subscribe?"

"I have you listed for $25," ventured the solicitor guardedly.

"I'll just make it $50," said the citizen, and, putting action to the word, he wrote out a check for that amount.

"If we parents who have boys don't do something to show our interest in them, nobody else will," he added.

"You've said it," replied the solicitor, thanking the donor for his check.

GOVERNMENTAL CONTROL OF COAL PRICE AT AN END

Immediate Increase from Restricted Rate of $2.35 a Ton to $3.50 and $4 Is Expected.

Today marks the end of governmental restrictions on the prices of coal and coke.

An immediate effect will be increase in the price of coal, local operators say. Instead of $2.35 a ton, the price will be $3.50 to $4, with a possibility of even higher prices should the demand grow. These prices, in fact, have ruled for some time with a few operators.

The Anderson Coal company, operating at Ohioport, posted notice Tuesday of an increase in wages to miners, effective April 1. This is in conformity with the advance provided in the President's coal commission report. It means 13 per cent above the increase, granted at the time of the threatened strike.

"CHAMPION FIREBUG" DEMANDS $5,000 AS PRICE OF INACTIVITY

Threat to Ignite "Big Timber" If Money Is Not Forthcoming. Carried Out Near Fairchance.

Houses near the outskirts of Fairchance were saved from the forest fire raging in that vicinity Tuesday only by the energetic efforts of Fire Warden D. M. Williams of Fairchance and the Boy Scouts of that place. The big timber is blazing fiercely, fanned by the high winds. The fire is a mile in length and the depth of it is not known.

There have been a number of little forest fires in that vicinity and the warden has received letters demanding $500 to have the incendiary operations cease. The sender of the letters signs himself as "the champion firebug."

The first letters threatened that if the money was not placed under a stone near Delaney's cave the "bug" would set the big timber on fire. Monday the latest letter was received and in it the demand was raised to $5,000. The letter was followed by a blaze in the big timber yesterday morning. It was ignited only about two miles from the plant of the Dun-Pont Powder company. The wind held it away from the plant yesterday but drove it toward Fairchance. Last night the breeze veered and carried the fire up the mountains. It is still burning but is being watched closely to prevent it from reaching the powder buildings.

MISSISSIPPI MAY RATIFY SUFFRAGE AMENDMENT TODAY

By Associated Press.

JACKSON, Miss., March 31.—Ratification of the federal woman suffrage amendment will be taken up today by the house of the Mississippi legislature.

Speaker Connor, after conferring with house leaders, announced he was willing to have ratification resolution passed yesterday by the senate up for direct action without reference to committee.

Predictions that the house will ratify the amendment have been freely made.

Mississippi was the first state to ratify the federal prohibition amendment and many of the legislators who organized the campaign in favor of that amendment are prominent in the movement to ratify this one.

DOVER, Del., March 31.—Suffragists and anti-suffragists to the state house today, expecting to see and hear the house vote on the ratification of the suffrage amendment. This event is scheduled to take place this afternoon but it may be postponed.

The Young river fell during the night from 3.05 feet to 2.90 feet.

Notice to Courier Readers.

On April 1, 1920, the subscription price of The Daily Courier will be advanced to three cents per copy. Delivered by carrier the rate will be 18 cents a week, 75 cents a month; by mail, one month, 75 cents; six months, $4.50; one year, $7.50.

The increase is made a necessity because of the greatly increased cost of print paper and everything that enters into the production of a newspaper. White paper today costs more than five times what it did when The Courier was selling at one cent. Just as soon as conditions become adjusted to anything near normal the subscription rates will be reduced.

On account of the serious shortage of paper The Daily Courier will issue but one edition daily. The time will be 4 o'clock. This will be effective April 1.

RUIN FACES PUBLISHERS IF CONDITIONS DO NOT IMPROVE

Special to The Courier.

NEW YORK, March 31.—Unless some very radical step is taken by the publishers in the larger cities of the country for the curtailment of the use of print paper the whole industry of newspaper making will suffer an annihilating shock next fall which only those who are provided from now on will survive, said Jason Rogers, publisher of the New York Globe, in a representative of the Editor & Publisher, on his return from a trip of investigation in Canada.

"Car shortage is at the base of the present difficulty in manufacturing newspaper and getting it from the mills to the newspapers," Car shortage, while particularly exasperating in such a situation as the present, with possible production only about 75 per cent of the normal demand of our newspapers, only adds to the confusion of those who are dependent on hand to mouth for news, delivery from mill to press room.

"Spot" paper is selling from 11 to 12 cents, whenever shown. Publishers are struggling with one another to buy extra tonnage. Nearly all of the mills are booked for more paper than they will produce.

"Unless those newspapers which are turning out one pound dailies and two and a half pound Sunday papers are brought to their senses, we will see spot paper at from 20 to 30 cents a pound by October, with practically no free tonnage obtainable at even those prices."

"In such a crisis as is upon us, the publication of a daily of over 24 pages or a Sunday of over 30 pages should be prohibited."

"I would be in favor of every newspaper arbitrarily cutting its circulation 10 per cent below 1919 experience, the adoption of fixed prices, three cents for dailies and 10 cents for Sunday papers, and a limit in size to 24 pages for dailies and 30 pages for Sunday newspapers, as the way to solve the problem."

"THE GUMPS" PLEAS

Catchy Music and Other Good Features in Play at Solsson.

"The Gumps," a two-act musical comedy, was witnessed by two large audiences yesterday afternoon and last evening at the Solsson theatre. The chorus was well balanced and the musical and catchy songs, especially "The Gump of an Old Time Melody," were enthusiastically received. There was a lot of pretty dancing, especially by Ralph Coleman, who was seen as "Toby Lyons," and Deille Gray as "Betty, the peach." Beverly Byrd, as "Helen Holmes, the cuddle moth," was splendid and made a big hit with her violin number. James Frasier as "The Gump" and Bessie Clifton as "Mim" were well adapted to their roles, as was J. C. Flippen as "Efficiency."

The comedy is founded on Slaney Smith's classic and was clean throughout.

Strong Women

BY DR. VALENTINE MOTT.

Women and men too—are just as strong and healthy as their blood. Vigor and health come with good blood. Without good red blood a woman has a weak heart and poor nerves.

In the spring is the best time to take stock of one's condition. If the blood is thin and watery, face pale or pimply, if one is tired and listless, generally weak, a Spring Tonic should be taken. An old-fashioned herbal remedy that was used by nearly everybody 50 years ago is still safe and sane because it contains no alcohol or narcotic. It is made of roots and herbs and called Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. If druggists do not keep it in tablet form, send 50 cents for a vial to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y.

SCHOOL BOND ISSUE OF $500,000 TO BE PUT UP TO VOTERS

Greensburg Citizens First Considered Million Bond Decided to Cut the Amount in Half.

Special to The Courier.

GREENSBURG, March 31.—Greensburg people will in all probability soon be asked to vote on a bond issue for $500,000 for improved school conditions in the borough. That is the recommendation that a citizens' committee which the board asked to cooperate with it in solving the local school question will make when the board next meets. At first there was talk of a million dollar bond issue, but considerable objection was raised to this and it was cut down to the $500,000 mark.

Greensburg faces serious school conditions. The high school is greatly overcrowded and so are the grade schools in the various wards. The teachers' salary question is a serious one and requires early solution if the district is to have sufficient instruction for next year. Recently the board refused an increase in salary to the teachers upon a unanimous request of the entire teaching force of the town.

THIRTY HIGH STUDENTS CANDIDATES FOR MEET.

That the athletes of Conneltsville high are in favor of entering the W. P. I. A. A. meet in Pottsville, Pa., is evident by the big turnout of boys who are anxious to make the team. In response to a call for candidates to try for the team issued by Coach Jack Hall, 30 reported to the coach yesterday afternoon and were taken on a hike in the first preliminary practice. Every candidate was questioned by the coach as to what event he would care to enter. In this way Coach Hall is giving each an opportunity to figure for himself what he thinks he is best suited to enter of the various events, but the selection that the candidates make does not imply that he will be started in such events. In the practice the coach took the squad out beyond Tipton in an easy stride.

After their run the boys were brought back to the school where each took a good shower and were generally looked after by Hall. The following students took part in the initial workout: Black, Hecklinger, McClaren, Carpenter, Clark, Cypher, Sdzjak and Menefee, distance runners; McDermott, Daniels, Neid, Buttermore and Jones, middle distance runners; Tumpley, Tomasia, Olesky and Danner, weights; Hume, Francis, G. Melnick and M. Melnick, jumps and hurdles; Cuneo, Nicholson, Critchfield, Lenhart, O'Hara, Whipple and McDonald, sprints.

Besides the boys whose names appear here, other have signified their intention of participating in the meet and will report to the coach in their next practice. Hall will follow a routine test, suited to bring out the abilities of the boys. That C. H. S. will be there with bells on, at the track of the starter's gun there is no question, as the boys are in full accord on entering the meeting and will endeavor to show the best they have when ready.

OPENING BASEBALL

GAME SATURDAY, MAY 8.
The first meeting of the board of directors of the Conneltsville baseball club was held last evening at the club headquarters in the Second National bank building and was fully attended. That the club will now go forward is assured by the instructions given Business Manager Bob McDowell, who was authorized to try and arrange the opening game between Johnny Todd's fast Fairbank team of Pittsburg. It was agreed that the opening game will be played on Saturday, May 8.

A committee was appointed to get busy at once getting the field into playing condition. This will include the arranging of seating accommodations, and the laying out of the diamond, also any other details that may arise. "Chip" Francis was instructed to get in touch with the players who have been mentioned as prospective members of the team. Francis complained of a lack of pitching material. He will get in communication at once with several that were mentioned but whose names are to remain confidential until advisable to publish them.

Now, you baseball fans, watch the speed and smoke of the Conneltsville Independents.

Baseball Champs.
The Baltimore & Ohio Y. M. C. A. Juniors intend to have several baseball teams out on the field this season and are practicing every Friday and Saturday at Fayette field to get into condition to meet any boy teams of their age. The boys are being coached by Jack Hall. They are fortunate in having such a capable mentor.

The Greensburg Review is organizing a city league among the many baseball teams of that city. Their original idea was to have a six-team league, but so many other teams wanted to get in that they were forced to increase the number. The success of the league by the Review in its enterprise should be heeded by other newspapers which have been in a rut for years, their progress being retarded by conservatism and being moss grown.

Bob McDowell, business manager of the local and newly formed independent, is working like a beaver arranging a schedule of games for Conneltsville's own. The schedule will embrace some of the fastest teams of this section of the state. As soon as McDowell has worked out the schedule, it will be published in these columns.

Basketball Chatter.

Although the big basketball games are now a thing of the past for this season, excepting for the game between the Cedar club and St. Vincent on April 7 at the Parochial hall, there remains a schedule to be finished among the Junior members of the Baltimore & Ohio Y. M. C. A. in which much interest still centers. Four teams are in the race for the local junior championship. The teams are the Raiders, Captain H. McCormick; Rangers, Captain C. McNitt; Tigers, Captain A. Johnson; and the Wallpapers, Captain Ted Clark. There remain 20 games to be played, each team participating in five contests. The playing schedule is due to end on April 12.

Up to date the Raiders are in the lead by a good margin. The standing of the clubs:

Team	Won	Lost	Pct.
Raiders	8	4	.666
Rangers	7	5	.583
Tigers	5	7	.418
Wallpapers	3	9	.250

Sport Snap Shots.

Ollie Mittereder was forced to cancel his entry on the Manhattan Five Bowling team. The team is entered in the Southern Duckpin tourney, which takes place at Pittsburg next month. Mittereder's place will be taken by "Billy" Burkett. This is the first time this season that a bowling team will roll on a Pittsburg alley.

Johnny Donnelly, the Uniontown leather slinger, is booked to box a "Billy Carter" at McKeesport tonight. For the benefit of those who may be laboring under the impression that the boy may be Billy Carter of this town we wish to state that he is not the same. Donnelly could not be dragged into a ring with our champion.

NEW HIGH SCORE IN

DICKERSON RUN LEAGUE.
Roundhouse of the Dickerson Run Y. M. C. A. bowling league won three straight games last night from the Dawson team and as an incident of the match Bryn Newmyer of the Roundhouse team rolled the highest individual score of the season, 477, topping the previous mark of Charles Irwin of the Dickerson Run team, 466. Three matches remain to be played. Friday, Dickerson Run and Scales will meet; Tuesday, Roundhouse and Dickerson Run; Friday, next week, the final match, Dawson and Scales. Dickerson Run has already clinched the cup, offered by the Y. M. C. A. Their race now is between Dawson and Scales for second place. The cup will be presented at a banquet following the close of the season.

How a Man Can Dress Better -And At a Lower Cost

The Way To Wear Good Clothes
At An Outlay You Can Afford

YES. the dollar has shrunk and clothes cost more than in the old days. That, we must frankly face.

No use trying to evade it by paying a lower price than good clothes can be sold for. The last thing in the world most of us can afford is a "run-down-at-the-heel" appearance.

BUY good clothes and nothing else. Good clothes honestly made of all-wool fabrics. Then get out of them all the service that the maker has built into them.

Don't wear the same suit day after day. Have several suits and change them frequently.

All of them will wear much longer. See that your clothes are properly put away on hangers—even over night. Have them brushed often and pressed regularly.

IT IS amazing how Kirschbaum Clothes respond to such care. The all-wool fabrics keep their freshness and full color. The shape stays because it is put into the garment stitch by stitch. The smart, well-groomed lines are there right up to the very last.

Wear Kirschbaum Clothes. Give them the care their good quality deserves. It means money in your pocket; better-looking clothes on your back!

Kirschbaum Clothes

You will find them here in the new styles and fabrics for Spring and Summer—priced at $50 to $75.

DRILLING FOR GAS NEAR WEST NEWTON SOON IS PROBABLE

Operations at Gratztown and Coal Hollow Cause Spread of Fever.

FIELD NOT A NEW ONE

Drillings, Bore, However, Been to the Shallow Sands and Belief Is That Repetition of McKeesport Is Possible By Going to the Lower Sands.

Further drilling for gas in the territory lying two to three miles west of West Newton, midway between Sutersville and the old operations in the neighborhood of Belle Vernon, are in prospect following the discovery of the McKeesport field, and subsequent tests which have been begun at Gratztown and in the Coal Hollow district which lie close to the Weddel belt on which a well of considerable flow was found several years ago.

Leases have been secured on much territory in this region by the Peoples Gas company, the Greensboro Gas company and others. Situated on the eastern portion of the Belle Vernon anticline, it is believed the field is one of the best in the Young valley for drilling. At present three wells are under way in the Gratztown field and four in Coal Hollow. One in the latter field was reported Monday to be down 700 feet. Another was started March 25 and a third two days later.

The territory lying between Sutersville and Belle Vernon has long been known as gas bearing, though there were no such producers as were found in the early days of the McKeesport field. Drillings reached only to the shallower sands. None penetrated to the Speechley in which the "gushers" have been found at McKeesport.

It is probable companies will be formed at West Newton and Sutersville to further test the field, independent of what may be done by the larger concerns.

The Cold That Hangs On

This is No. 5 of a series of advertisements, prepared by a competent physician, explaining how certain diseases which attack the passages, such as the throat, larynx, trachea, bronchi, and lungs, can be cured by the use of Vicks Vapo-Rub. These vapors are in an inflated, congested state, thus affording a favorable field for invading germs. And how Vicks Vapo-Rub may be of value in this condition.

A cold is simply an inflammation of some part of the air passages—throat, larynx or bronchial tubes—just like a sore is an inflammation of the skin. A long continued cold means constant inflammation and this constant inflammation frequently weakens the air passages, so that they become an easy point of attack for invading germs of more serious diseases. A "cold that hangs on," therefore, is simply nature's "red flag" indicating that there is "trouble below," and this warning should never be neglected.

Nightly applications of Vicks Vapo-Rub will aid nature to clear up that inflammation. Because Vicks acts locally by stimulation thru the skin to draw out the inflammation, attract the blood away from the congested spots and relieve the cough. In addition, the medicinal ingredients of Vicks are vaporized by the body heat. These vapors are breathed in all night long, thus bringing the medication to bear directly upon the inflamed areas.

Vicks should be rubbed in over the throat and chest until the skin is red—then spread on thickly and covered with hot flannel cloths. Leave the clothing loose around the neck and the bed clothes arranged in the form of a funnel so the vapors arising may be freely inhaled. If the cough is annoying, swallow a small bit of Vicks the size of a pea.

Samples to new users will be sent free on request to The Vick Chemical Company, 235 Broad Street, Greensboro, N. C.

URGES PEOPLE TO FIGHT CATARRH WITH SIMPLE HOME MADE REMEDY

Can Make Pint at Home and Costs Little, Says Leading Druggist of Covington, Ky., Who Has Made Special Study of Catarrh.

Says: Inflamed Nostrils Invite Influenza

People who say that catarrh is a disease not to be taken seriously are harshly rebuked by a Kentucky druggist who has for years been much interested in the growth of this loathsome, yet altogether too common disease.

He claims that the sore, tender, inflamed membrane of the nostrils and throat is a prolific breeding ground for germs—not only the germs of influenza, but many other kinds as well.

If people would only stop experimenting for two weeks and try a simple remedy made of Mentholized Arceine mixed with enough boiled water to make a full pint, half of the catarrh in this country would be abolished. It's really no joke for people who don't know about this simple recipe to be constantly sniffing and snuffing, blowing and hawking, when all these obnoxious symptoms as well as the foul discharge can be made to disappear in a few days.

Ask for three-quarters of an ounce of Mentholized Arceine—that's all you need and after you have mixed it with enough boiled water to make a pint gargle the throat twice daily and snuff or spray some up the nostrils, as directed.

The tender nostrils will soon lose their soreness, heal up, and be clean and healthy.

Important Reminder: Just as soon as anyone in the family gets a cold in the head, check it at once with this same medicine.

THE ARCADE.

"HAUK'S SUNSHINE REVUE"—What proved to be the biggest and best tabloid production ever to have played Conneltsville opened a two weeks engagement at the Arcade on Monday. The audience was not only pleased, but surprised, at such a stupendous production being given at popular prices. Helen Kennedy pleased both in the way she put over her part of the play and also in her musical numbers. The four Musical Kings, as usual, pleased enormously with their selections, and repounded to many en-cores. The chorus is the most elaborately grown over seen in a tabloid musical comedy. The closing of the bill was Cecile Paquin & Company, the most wonderful posing act ever seen in the city, and was a surprise to all. Judging by the crowds both Monday and Tuesday, the seating capacity of the theatre will be overtaken for the full two weeks of the engagement.

"THE ROAD CALLED STRAIGHT"—With Louis Bennison, the popular Goldwyn star in the leading role, is being shown today.

"The Road Called Straight," a picture brimful of situations that reveal the screen cowpuncher at his best. First we find him a rough and ready rancher. He is Al Boyd, owner of the biggest ranch in Idaho. When a quartet of eastern speculators hire westward to cover the cattle market, it is to Al Boyd they make their first advances. And just when Al is all set to kick the presumptuous strangers into the roadway the beautiful daughter of the party's spokesman enters Boyd's shack and immediately the sturdy Westerner is smitten, so much so that the scheming strangers inveigle him into an agreement, that under ordinary circumstances would have been answered by a volley from the trusty six-shooter of "Quick-on-the-draw" Al Boyd.

Later Boyd goes East to marry the girl of his heart. It is in these scenes that Bennison proves himself a true son of the West.

Before I could gather my wits together she had vanished, leaving me sitting there, staring after her in dismay. What did she—the telephone girl—know about the Gaston party? How could she possibly know that they were missing? I had told no one—no one except Barbara Bradford—about the tiled wall safe. How could her excitement and perturbation be accounted for except by the fact that she knew of their loss? I was sitting there, puzzling over her mysterious conduct, when I became aware that a man was standing beside my table, glaring down at me. I looked up, expecting to see the waiter or head waiter. Instead, it was a man in a blazer jacket, a stocky, broad-shouldered chap with a close-cropped gray mustache.

"You're got your nerve," he sneered

"You've Got Your Nerve," He Sneered at Me.

at me. "Bringing a woman of that sort here."

"A woman of what sort?" I asked eagerly, surprised to find someone in a place of this sort who knew the Granddeck's telephone girl.

"Why, Lefty Moore's wife, of course."

"I don't understand," I replied. "I'm here with Miss Kelly."

"Oh, she told you that was her name, did she?"

"I know it's her name. She's the telephone girl in the apartment where I live—the Granddeck."

I could see his manner toward me change at the mention of my abode, but he was still insistent about the identity of my companion.

"How well do you know her?" he asked.

"Well—I am afraid I colored, as I realized that my acquaintance with the girl was limited—I've been living there for a week or so, and I've talked with her two or three times and—"

"I thought so," said my inquisitor. "There's nothing to it. She's Lefty Moore's woman all right. If I'd seen you come in with her, you'd never have got a table in this place."

"What is the matter with her? Who is Lefty Moore?"

"An expression of amazement came into the man's face."

"Did you never hear tell of Lefty Moore, the cleverest three-time burglar there is in or out of Sing Sing? Fourteen years he got the last time, and it was quite a write-up the papers gave me for catching him."

It began to dawn on me then who the man was. He must be an expellee employed as the restaurant bouncer or house detective.

"You're sure Miss Kelly and Lefty Moore's wife are the same person?"

"I've reasons for not forgetting her. She was with him that time when I took him. I've got the marks of her nails in my face yet. It's her all right, even if she has gone to work as Miss Kelly while Lefty's doing his stretch. She's a bad one, she is."

"Is she a crook, too?" I asked excitedly. "I was trying to measure up the importance of this astounding bit of information. Already my deductions had convinced me that some band of criminals was in collusion with someone in the apartment who was carrying out their plots against the Bradfords and me. I had been thinking of an apartment surreptitiously tenanted by a criminal gang. How much more likely that an employee of the place was in the pay of the plotters! And now to learn that the telephone girl was, if not a criminal herself, at least the associate of criminals."

"She's got no record that I know of," the detective admitted, "but she couldn't be Lefty Moore's wife without being a crook herself."

"That helps explain things," I said more to myself than to him.

"Explains what?" he asked suspiciously.

"Look here," I said with a new determination. "There have been some mysterious happenings in the Granddeck, and I brought this girl here to try to pump her. I asked her a question or two, and she became much embarrassed and confused. She jumped up and said she was going to the telephone. Do you suppose that she saw you and recognized you?"

"Not a chance," said the detective. "Well, I'd like to find out to whom she telephoned. Can you find out for me?"

"Sure I can, but you got to get her out of here."

"All right," I replied. "As soon as she returns to my table, I'll pay my check and we'll leave. I'll be back by and by and see if you've learned anything."

"Here she comes now," said the detective, hastily taking his departure, but I noticed that he had stationed himself behind some palms where he could watch the girl without being seen.

"Who was the fellow talking to you as I came up?" asked Miss Kelly curiously.

She was cool and collected now. Her telephone message—if she had been really phoning—seemed in some way to have fortified her.

"Oh, that fellow," I replied with assurance, carelessness, "that was the manager of the place."

"What'd he want?"

"Nothing in particular. He just asked if everything was all right. Why?"

"He looked to me like a hulk—like a detective I used to know," she hastily corrected herself.

Her slip in using the thieves' slang phrase served to aid in convincing me that my informant had been correct in his identification. I was as anxious now as the house detective to get her out of the restaurant, and summoning the waiter I hastened to pay my check.

"Let's stay for a couple of dances," she suggested.

"Sorry," I said, "but I can't dance"—mentally adding the words, "with you."

"Let's go then," she said disappointedly, and to my surprise on the way out she renewed the subject of Mr. Gaston.

"You were asking if the old gentleman left a forwarding address. He didn't leave any with me. If you find out where he is, will you let me or Mr. Wick know? Mr. Wick wants to get in touch with him."

Something told me then it must have been Mr. Wick she had telephoned to. Probably she had informed him I had been asking about the Gastons' address and had consulted him as to what answer to give. Putting the girl into a taxi I paid her driver to take her home and hurried back into the hotel. I found the house detective—James Gorman, I learned his name was—waiting for me in the lobby.

"Was it to the Granddeck she telephoned?" I asked eagerly.

"It was 6309 Plaza. That's a private number. I called up information, and she wouldn't tell me where it was. I'll find out tomorrow, though. There's other ways besides through 'information.'"

"If you find out you'll phone me right away, won't you?" I asked him, giving him my card.

"And have I fly Moore's wife listening in," he suggested. "Nothing doing, son. You'd better call me from a public pay station."

"You're right about that," I replied, "and say, look here. Why can't you meet me somewhere tomorrow afternoon. There are a lot of mysterious things happening in the Granddeck. Maybe you can help me in trying to clear them up."

"It's a date. I'll be in the back room of Jim Connor's place over on Third avenue at three o'clock waiting for you."

"I'll be there," I said, as I had him good night.

"Hold on a minute," he said. "Do you know where Lefty Moore's wife lives now?"

I recalled the number she had told me to give the taxi man and repeated it to him, an address way over on East Sixty-second street near the river.

"I like to know them sort of things," he explained. "In our business you never know when you'll be needing them."

On my way home, after I left him, I congratulated myself on having made James Gorman's acquaintance. In him I had found a man with police and detective experience. The fact that he held a responsible position with a big hotel ought to be sufficient voucher for his honesty. Of course Miss Bradford must be consulted before I met Gorman the next afternoon. I could hardly tell him my own almost unbelievable experiences without bringing in the attempts to blackmail her sister. Surely Miss Bradford would not object to my plan. We were making such poor headway in solving the mystery ourselves that I was certain she would welcome Gorman's advice.

And would it not be a surprise to Barbara Bradford to learn that a criminal—or at least the wife of a criminal—was employed as a telephone girl in the apartment house? I was hoping that she would be at home and in her room when I arrived at the house so that I might signal her and right, even if she has gone to work as Miss Kelly while Lefty's doing his stretch. She's a bad one, she is."

"Is she a crook, too?" I asked excitedly. "I was trying to measure up the importance of this astounding bit of information. Already my deductions had convinced me that some band of criminals was in collusion with someone in the apartment who was carrying out their plots against the Bradfords and me. I had been thinking of an apartment surreptitiously tenanted by a criminal gang. How much more likely that an employee of the place was in the pay of the plotters! And now to learn that the telephone girl was, if not a criminal herself, at least the associate of criminals."

"She's got no record that I know of," the detective admitted, "but she couldn't be Lefty Moore's wife without being a crook herself."

"That helps explain things," I said more to myself than to him.

"Explains what?" he asked suspiciously.

"Look here," I said with a new determination. "There have been some mysterious happenings in the Granddeck, and I brought this girl here to try to pump her. I asked her a question or two, and she became much embarrassed and confused. She jumped up and said she was going to the telephone. Do you suppose that she saw you and recognized you?"

"Not a chance," said the detective. "Well, I'd like to find out to whom she telephoned. Can you find out for me?"

"Sure I can, but you got to get her out of here."

"All right," I replied. "As soon as she returns to my table, I'll pay my check and we'll leave. I'll be back by and by and see if you've learned anything."

tell her my great news at once."

I let myself into the apartment and without bothering to turn on the lights made my way back toward my own room. As I reached the end of the hall my ears detected a scuffling noise that seemed to come from my quarters. I stopped stock-still and listened breathlessly. Unquestionably there was someone in my room.

I tiptoed softly forward. As I crept along in the darkness, making no sound, I found myself devoutly wishing for some weapon. Of course it might be Barbara, who had entered by means of the ledge to leave some message for me, but if it were not she, I felt certain that I would discover who was at the bottom of the plots against us.

I gained the door without my presence having been discovered. In the dim half-light that came from the open window I could detect a figure standing on a chair apparently feeling along the wall near the ceiling. I repelled with curiosity that it was from that spot that the whispers I had heard had seemed to come.

Inch by inch I edged noiselessly forward, my eyes on the intruder until at last my fingers found the electric light button. As the light flooded the room there was a suppressed scream, followed by a frightened gasp. The figure on the chair turned quickly and faced me. I saw that it was a woman, a badly frightened woman, with her hands clutching at her heart. Almost instantly I recognized her. It was not Barbara Bradford, but her sister, Claire. She was clad in some sort of a dark house gown thrown over her nightgown. Her slipped feet were bare of stockings, and her hair hung in a great braid down her back.

As I stared at her she sprang from the chair and made a rush for the open window. I grabbed for her and though she fought desperately I managed to hold her fast and to drag her away from the window. After a moment's futile resistance she suddenly collapsed to my arms, moaning in a tense whisper:

"Let me go, please let me go."

I placed her in a chair, and still keeping a tight hold on one of her arms, studied her, debating what to do. What desperate motive could have driven this girl to the daring journey across the narrow ledge by which she had gained access to my quarters? Was she, I wondered, once more in the power of that evil ex-husband of hers, driven by fear of him to such desperate deeds.

"Let me go," she moaned again.

"Not until you tell me what you were doing in my room," I answered firmly.

The Margin is Gone!

IN the end the user always pays. When you pay for telephone service you buy our supplies, you meet our payrolls and, in the proper scheme of things, you should pay us a reasonable profit.

The man who puts his dollar in this business expects it to earn its hire. We can't pay him unless there is a profit.

High costs of materials—increased wages—higher taxes and other expenses have wiped out the narrow margin that previously existed.

It never was a big one! The investor in The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania never received more than a modest return on his money.

With rates just what they were before the war profits are gone and investors will not put in the badly needed new money. Without the extensions and improvements this money will buy, the service will suffer.

SKILLED PRE-NATAL AND MATERNITY CARE SAVES MANY MOTHERS

Only Two Women in Thousand Die from Confinement. Statistics Show: Infant Mortality Reduced.

Even at this late date, more women between the ages of 15 and 45 years die from causes incidental to childbearing than from any other cause except tuberculosis. This condition has begun to interest seriously those concerned with the conservation of human life and, as a result, a hitherto undeveloped field of public health work has been opened up.

An inquiry sent out recently by the Metropolitan Insurance Company to health officers of all the states and larger cities having good birth registration has resulted in the following information for the year 1919:

1—More than five women die from disorders of pregnancy or childbirth out of each 1,000 births registered. This is equivalent to one maternal death out of every 185 confinements.

2—Forty-five babies out of every 1,000 total births, or one out of every 22, are born dead.

3—Forty babies out of every 1,000 born alive die before they are one month old.

Such are the dangers to mother and infant at the present time.

As against the above figures are the following which prevail among women who receive prenatal and maternity care under skilled direction:

1—Only two women instead of five die out of every 1,000 confinements.

2—Only 12 babies instead of 45 are still-born in every 1,000 births.

3—Only 10 babies instead of 40 per 1,000 born alive die under one month of age.

Results such as these have been achieved in Boston, New York City and elsewhere. They can be obtained anywhere if adequate nursing and medical care are available to women during pregnancy, at confinement and during the first month of the infant's life.

Such is the great promise in life conservation held out by prenatal and maternity care for women.

Called for Alleged Slander. GREENSBURG, March 31.—Frank Medneek, a miner of Andrieco, was placed in the county jail Tuesday. He is charged by Joseph Mitziar with slander. Some months ago Medneek was robbed of $2,000 and Mitziar says that, in the Polish language, Frank accused him in the presence of friends of stealing the money.

A WONDERFUL HELP

At Two Stages of Life Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Mrs. Fairburn Strong And Well.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—"I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before my baby came when I could no longer keep up. It strengthened my back and relieved me of the dropsical effect which so often comes on women at such times. It helped me wonderfully. That was my first experience with the Vegetable Compound. Years afterwards I took it during the Change of Life and got along so well I scarcely ever had to lie down during the day and seldom had dizzy fainting spells. I am now well and strong, can do all my housework with perfect ease and it is a comfort to me to be able to say to other suffering women, 'Take Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine and be strong.' I will be glad to have you use my name if it will be the means of helping any one."

Mrs. E. A. Fairburn, 806 Orchard Knob Avenue, Chattanooga, Tenn.

For forty years this famous root and herb medicine has been pre-eminently successful in controlling the diseases of women. Secret alone could have stood this test of time.
